THE South-
Carolina Gazette.
January 2d, 1755. [NUMB. 1071.]

LONDON, Sept. 24.

WE hear, that the hon. Charles Townſhend will be appointed a lord of the treaſury.

Sept. 26. Orders are given to expedite men of war intended for the Weſt Indies.

Sept. 28. On thurſday there was a council held at Kenſington on extraordinary affairs, which ſat 'till 11 at night, and yeſterday there was another; at both which his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland preſided. Theſe Councils, it is ſuppoſed, are on our preſent Affairs in America and the Weſt Indies.

We hear that orders are given for two regiments to be ſent from Ireland directly for the Weſt Indies.

Oct. 1. Laſt Thurſday, at a council held at Kenſington, it was ordered, that a proclamation ſhould be iſſued for the parliament to meet on Thurſday the 13th of November next, for the diſpatch of buſineſs, which was accordingly publiſhed in laſt Saturday's Gazette.

At the ſame time his majeſty was pleaſed to order, that the convocations of the provinces of Canterbury and York, which ſtand prorogued to the 23d of October next, ſhould be farther prorogued to the 15th of November following.

We hear that Sir Peter Halket's and Dunbar's regiments of foot in Ireland are to be augmented to 1000 men each, and are to be ſent to Virginia; and it is ſaid they will be commanded by General Braddock.

Oct. 3 Several officers, now in town, belonging to Sir Peter Halket's and col. Dunbar's regiments in Ireland, are preparing to ſet out with all expedition for that Kingdom.

Oct. 5. We hear that commodore Keppel goes on board the Centurion man of war, as commander of a ſquadron on a particular expedition.

We conclude a great number of captains of tranſports attended at the navy-office, an embarkation of troops being expected ſoon for America.

It is reported, that the French are going to embark 4000 troops immediately, for America.

Oct. 8. On friday warrants were iſſued for preſſing ſailors to man the ſquadron which is ordered for America; and on ſunday they were put in execution with great vigour, and a number of ſailors preſs'd, which, it is imagined, muſt be the conſequence of a war.

We are aſſured from good authority, that there will be a coalition of all the Engliſh governments on the continent of America; that each colony will ſend its quota of troops; and that they will be effectually ſupported by the mother-country. We hear likewiſe, that ſeveral independent companies will be raiſed, which, with Halket's and Dunbar's regiments preparing to embark, and Sir William Pepperell's and Governor Shirley's regiments ordered to be raiſed in New-England, when joined with the forces already there, will make a body of near 10,000 regular troops. Several fine pieces of artillery, with a ſufficient number of matroſſes, &c. are ordered to be in readineſs; and it is not doubted, that we ſhall not only diſpoſſeſs the French from the Ohio, but alſo compel them to keep ſuch limits as were preſcribed to them by the treaty of Utrecht.

Oct. 10. We hear, that a great many ſerjeants of the foot-guards are to have commiſſions, and be ſent as ſubaltern officers to America, to join the body of men that are to be raiſed in that country.

Capt. William Mantle is appointed captain under commodore Kepple, of the Centurion man of war, on board which the commodore will ſoon hoiſt his flag.

Oct. 12. We hear, that an additional proviſion of 8000 ſailors will be made for the year 1755.

We hear that the men of war at preſent deſigned for North-America, conſiſt of the Centurion and three 50 gun ſhips, which are to ſail to Ireland with ſeven tranſports, and there take on board two regiments.

The Active, the Lion, and the Roſe men of war, part of M. de la Galiſſoniere's French ſquadron, put into Cadiz the 11th ult.

It is ſaid, that Sir William Pepperell will have the command of the forces in the expedition deſigned for regaining our right in America.

Orders were given on thurſday laſt, that all the military ſtores preparing for America, with tents, &c. for about 8000 men, ſhould be got ready for embarkation in ſeven days from that time.

On tueſday ſome officers, with recruits, went out of town to join Sir Peter Halket's regiment at Cork, where they will embark in a few days for America.

Oct. 15. Three ſhip-carpenters are in the cuſtody of Mr. Carrington, one of his majeſty's meſſengers in Jermyn-ſtreet, for ſuſpicious practices; they were this day examined at the Cock it.

By an account brought from France we are informed, that they ſeem quite unconcerned at the ſucceſs we are going to afford our colonies, and that the report of their being upon the point of embarking 4000 forces is entirely groundleſs; and we may preſume our miniſtry would naturally take the alarm and require a categorical anſwer from that court with regard to the deſtination of ſo formidable a body of troops; however we are aſſured, they are continually ſending ſingle ſhips only with 2 or 300 ſoldiers in each, which prevents any inquiry being made.

Sir John St. Clair, late lieutenant colonel of Oglethorpe's regiment of foot, is appointed quarter maſter general of all the forces to go to America, and is to rank as colonel. And this week Sir John St. Clair, and lieutenant colonel Mercer, of Sir William Pepperell's regiment, will embark for Ireland.

A great number of hands are at work in the laboratory at Woolwich preparing cartridges, fitting up arms, &c. who are obliged to work day and night.

A lieutenant and corporal of each company in the train of artillery, are ordered to go recruiting to raiſe men with all expedition, and great encouragement is offered.

Letters from Dublin adviſe, that it is rumoured, that ſome regiments will be raiſed on the Iriſh eſtabliſhment, in the room of thoſe that were lately ſent to the Eaſt Indies, and thoſe that are to be ſent to America; and that ſome additional companies will be added to each of the other regiments, and officer's by gentlemen on half pay.

Oct. 17. We hear that major-general Braddock is arrived at Paris from Gibraltar; and that he is ſent for to command in chief the American forces.

It is reported, that the French king has ſent a manifeſto here concerning his right of claims in America, and that it will be anſwered.

One of the tranſports going for Ireland, to take forces on board for Virginia, is fallen down the river.

We hear, that on tueſday laſt a young gentleman was taken into cuſtody of one of his majeſty's meſſengers, on ſuſpicion of his having a deſign of carrying over to France, ſeveral very minute and very curious draughts which he had made of our ſhipping, from a firſt rate man of war down to a ſloop. It is ſaid likewiſe, that ſome of the workmen in Deptford yard are taken up for examination how far they were or were not aiding and aſſiſting him in this ſcheme.

It is ſaid likewiſe, that the 3 ſhipwrights who were taken up by his majeſty's meſſengers, was on account of an information being made, that they had ſent models of our new built men of war abroad.—In every king's yard there is a mould loft, in which are models or draughts of every ſhip built, with the dimenſions of the keel, knees, ſtem, &c. and which muſt be approved of by the ſurveyor of the navy.

Oct. 19. Orders are given for a captain, 4 lieutenants, and 60 bombardiers and matroſſes, to hold themſelves ready to embark from Woolwich, in order to join the forces deſtined for Virginia.

As the troops to be ſent to North America cannot enter upon action in that cold country before May or June next, we are told, that in their paſſage they are to pay a viſit to the Neutral Iſlands, in order to carry off all the French inhabitants upon them, and to demoliſh their ſettlements and plantations. This, we hope,
